

Selection of Presentations: Tomilynn W. McManus, PHQ, PSG mcmanust@earthlink.net

For more information contact her at her e-mail address. Some presentation will need resource materials and cost to the local group is negotiable.

Let's Celebrate Job's Daughters. A workshop covering the selection and variety of uses for promotional materials including suggestions for creating new materials and organizing special promotional events, lots of samples, and two VCR promotional tapes.

Let's HIKE. A review of The HIKE Fund, special activities, and history.

A Visit with Mrs. Mick. A personal history of Mrs. Mick with photographs and photocopies of early IOJD printed materials.

A History of the Ritual. An appreciation for the various versions of the Ritual from the very first typewritten text to the present.

True Colors. A fun-filled workshop that enables Daughters and adults to better understand their personality differences and how to appreciate and develop better working relationships.

Leadership Lessons. A review of leadership qualities based upon the teachings in the IOJD Ritual.

Writing Well. A humorous look at the perils of writing poorly, and the potential for writing well, includes press releases, correspondence, newsletters, promotional materials.

Body Language. The subtle and not-so-subtle messages our body language conveys - regardless of what we say or how we listen.

Lessons for Officers. What every (Executive Supreme) (Executive Grand) (Bethel Guardian Council) Officer should know, but is afraid to ask!

The International Center for Job's Daughters. Who, What, & Where